The Committee believes this is a significant artefact and that it has a responsibility to preserve it's existence.

ANZAC Services at The Coonooer Bridge War Memorial are well attended and the Committee believes that the continued restoration of this artefact will encourage past, present and future members of the local community to attend ANZAC Services at Coonooer Bridge into the future.

The Committee also believes that the wider community should also be encouraged to visit and appreciate this artefact. Upon completion of this project the Committee intends to involve the wider local community through a public unveiling of the fully restored gun.

It will also notify the local newspaper (North Central Times, St Arnaud) and add our memorial to the following website:
https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/List_of_Australian_military_memorials#Victoria

The Committee will provide in kind assistance in the maintenance of the War Memorial. It will also provide assistance in the possible transport of the gun.

Mark Sloan and Peter Watts will collaboratively manage this project. The total cost of the War Memorial Restoration is $ 20 928.60 (GST Inclusive). This amount includes a concrete slab and fitted enclosure.

It is intended that this entire project will be completed by July 2019.
